A Sweet Prospect.

EY P. E. PEREMAN, ARISIA CHANG Turce - Previous name

As I enter in the valley,
Where my steps I can't retrace,
Jesus' emile will be upon me,
Then I'll see Him face to face.

Precious name, oh, hew sweet, Hope of earth and joy of heaven.

Great will be the joy of meeting
With my Saviour, whom I love
He will most me at the portals
Of that glorious home shove.

Now, in time of grief and sorrow, Jesus cheers me as I go, Makes my many burdens lighter, Heals my every pain and woe,

Caraless one, in darkness wandering, Living far from God and right, Look! behold the dear Redsomer Calling sweetly, "Come to-night."

Christ has jewels in the putter,
Precious game of richest worth,
Which to Him any of more value.
Then all treasures of this earth.
Though bedeathed with risk a corruption,
So they do not shim at all.
Yet when reached by fere said marcy,
All that's vile abed from them fall.

Let me love Thee Sevicer.

Christ has joven in the gutter,
Such as some would pass with acces,
Yet profess in God's great vineyard,
To be seeking absaves of corn.
Thay would shruk from such vile create
Could not think to stoop so low,
Would be noiled, as do not go.

Christ has jewels in the gutter,
Who were once as pure as snow,
Till instructed and led to ruin,
By the vain world's glittering about,
Now in misery they do lenguish,
Broken hearted in despise,
Futzre prospect dark and gloony,
Minst they die, will no one care?

Christ has jeweds in the gutter.
Who will to the recess go,
Orating not for ease and comfort,
Seak for gens among the low.
Everyone that you can lead to
Seak the eleanance power divinIn the cower of your rejecting,
As a few will over chine.

cial Officer with reference to open air work. The time is certainly very opportune just at the beginning of summe and the fine weather, with our oppo tanities for getting at the crowds out-side, is so beautiful and great. The Commandant remarks that the fighting spirit of the Selvation Army should be spirit of the Svitzion Army anomic be maintained; in this way our soldiers and officers are kept constantly at work in the thoroughfares where the people are. It was here the Army was born, and he further adds that be is very desirous this number that no stoom should be left indirected to brigg into every corps are vivid of love for real open-air flighting. Personally, one of the most enjoyable meetings I have had in Canada was that at Richmond Street less Sanday meetings I have need in Canada was that at Rickmond Street last Sunday night, when, at a quarter to ten p.m., after a blessed inside gathering, we went out to face one of the most attentive and intelligent crowds of listeners that over it has been my privilege to address. With the drum converted into a peni-tent-form, and the electric light above tent-form, and the electric ignt above us, and a huge crowd around us, surely our opportunity could not have been better. The man who has got to do open air fighting will quickly realize his need of being fully baptized with the power of God's Holy Spirit. Tree, it is power or God's Holy Spirit. True, it is easy to spin out a few anecdotes, or perhaps to raise the laugh, but to my something that will grip a person in the open-air, and send him home with the open-air, and send him nome with the arrow of conviction in his soul, requires nothing less than the power of God. Let us then, my compales, take advan-tage of this summer weather, and make the streets of our cities and towns re-sound with the news of an offered
